

Why one should never lie!

Lots of people we come across have a tendency to lie whenever they get the chance. Sadly this is something we can't do anything about directly, but if you are one of those that sometimes thinks that getting away with one tiny lie is ok then think again since one lie can lead to dozens more that you need to utter to support your previous lie.

There are reasons why one should not lie, but everyone has their values. I personally have the thoughts below.. do add your reasons as why one should NEVER lie!

No one will ever trust you

This one is the saddest result of you "lying" on most occasions. If you are someone who just can't tell the truth then you will very easily enter that hot list where no one would want to trust you.

You will feel bad

Not a lot of liars would agree at the point of lying that they are doing something bad. But in the long run they WILL suffer the consequences since a lie never ever takes them anywhere good.

You will not be like able

I have never come across a liar who is likeable. So start telling the truth, people will respect you for it.

Liars have no friends

Just an extension of the above, if one doesn't like you how will they be your friend.. right?

What you think .. how does a "lie" make its place in your daily life?
